

Kid President stated “To be a hero, you can be a normal person who does extraordinary things or inspires others to do extraordinary things!”

For this week’s homework, we would like you to talk about someone who you believe is a hero. What makes them extraordinary? How do they make you feel?

The hero could be a friend, family member or anyone else you consider special.

Kid President stated “To be a hero, you can be a normal person who does extraordinary things or inspires others to do extraordinary things!”

For this week’s homework, we would like you to talk about someone who you believe is a hero. What makes them extraordinary? How do they make you feel?

The hero could be a friend, family member or anyone else you consider special.

Kid President stated “To be a hero, you can be a normal person who does extraordinary things or inspires others to do extraordinary things!”

For this week’s homework, we would like you to talk about someone who you believe is a hero. What makes them extraordinary? How do they make you feel?

The hero could be a friend, family member or anyone else you consider special.